Despite some drawbacks, the week's aport at the Empire City track has been all that was expected. Driving finishes have been the rule, and fast time has been made. As was predicted in these columns, the attendance shows a grafifying increase in the interest in the harmes horse, which in days gone by was regarded as the distinctly American horse. The wise ones are taking the announcement that John Mackey, J. B. Haggin's racing factotum, is soon to return to California as a tip that sone of the Rancho del Paso youngsters is considered good enough for the Futurity. This may or may not be so, but the real reason, so it is said, for his somewhat hurried departure for the West is the news that E. S. Cuiver, who has been the pedigree expert on the Rancho del Paso for a number of years, has left the Haggin employ.

DICK WELLES' FINE RUN

His Race With Smathers' Grand Opera Was the Feature of the Racing. Four Boys Divided the Riding Honors.

By CHIP,

CHICAGO, August 15.—Race-goers to Harlem have had all manner of sensations during the past week. On last Saturday, August 8th, a rumor was freely curculated early in the day that all bookmakers, judges and all persons connected with the track were to be arrested for gambling. This startling information attracted a large crowd of curlosity-seekers to the track to see the fun, but all the fun they saw was six good races, as there was not a bet laid in the ring during the day, and the field was carefully canvassed to guard against the possibility of handbooks being made. It appears that the Chief of Police, or rather constable of Harlem, who, rumor has it, was induced by Robert Cantwell, attorney for E. D. Farley, the man who was ruled off the Western turf for running the "tinger" Almiess as Sarah Black at Detroit, to issue search warrants to determine if there was any gambling going on at Harlem race track. Chief Lange was so overcome by the importance of the affair, and no doubt seeing visions of his nama being heralded throughout the land, as a raider and breaker-up of gambling on the race track, and in a moment rising from obscurity to prominence in the village, that he readily consented to do their bidding, and at once organized a posse of about four hundred strong, who were within a mile of the track at the time of the organization of this Coxey army of constables, which consisted of about three of the City Democratic Committee will meet in the office of Chairman Doherty on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of fixing the assessment of candidates for the House and Senate who desire to run in the tegislative primary to be held here on September 22d.

The General Committee has passed a resolution requesting the two above named bodies to make the assessment as light as possible, and Indications are that it will be very reasonable. The candidates are required to file their names with the chairman and pay their assessments to the treasurer by noon on Saturday next, at which hour the lists will be closed against future entries. So far Hon. A. C. Harman has no opposition for the Senate, and it looks as if he will be declared the nomline by the committee without entering the primary.

There are seven candidates for the House, only five of whom can be chosen. They are as follows: Messris. S. L. Kelley, C. M. Wallace, Jr., and L. T. Christian (incumbents), and General Charles J. Anderson, Capitaln E. B. Thomason, Capitaln Harry Lee Watson and Mr. Edwin p. Cox, The race is a very friendly one, and so far there has been but little interest or excitement.
